HUMANS OF NEW YORKSHIRE

FIVE RIVERS COFFEE CO.

(SPEECH)

Man: When I finished uni, took a year out saved up to go travelling and then me and my fiancée Melissa went South East Asia.

The Five Rivers Coffee Co. shop there is a vintage filter over the image. A man makes coffee.

(SPEECH)

Man: So we were in Vietnam for about 6 weeks. Loved it, best country I've ever been to. And yeah then when we got back we had the idea for a Vietnamese coffee shop.

Holiday photos taken in Vietnam.

(SPEECH)

Man: When we first opened we knew we'd have to do something different otherwise it would probably get a bit lost. Particularly in Sheffield as well, because there's like a really strong scene of independent businesses.

The coffee shop bustling with customers.

(SPEECH)

Man: It's been said that we're the most instagramable place in Sheffield. People come for the food, but they also come just to get a photo of it as well. So for us it's proved a really good way of sharing it.

Scenic spots of the shop are shown. There are lanterns hanging from the ceiling, and a variety of posters cover the bright orange walls.

(SPEECH)

Man: People said it would be hard, but I didn't really realise, how hard it would be. It takes a lot of commitment I think to crack on with it and make sure you do still show up for work everyday because you need to keep going and then there'll come a point what we're kinda at now where it starts to work.

More scenic photos of Vietnam on the wall. The menu, and lots of cakes. A cup of coffee with shapes in the foam.

(SPEECH)

Man: You get a lot of good feedback, people really like it and that is, that is really rewarding. Just that you've created something completely different that people actually really like. That's probably, I'd say, the best part about running a business.
